RETAIL TRADE-SUMMARY STATISTICS

The following tabulation provides data for the 10 largest Central Business Districts (CBD's) and for the 10 largest Major Retail Centers (MRC's) having a planned shopping center as the core of the MRC.

The 97 individual reports in the CBD series provide data for a total of 109 CBD's in cities having a population of 100,000 or more as of the latest official Census prior to 1958. These reports also provide data for a total of 472 MRC's, including the 10 shown in this tabulation. It should be noted that these are not the 10 largest of all the MRC's, for which data are provided. See "Delineation of the Major Retail Centers" on page APP-17 for a complete explanation of how MRC's were delineated.

APPENDIX B

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATIONS

Retail trade, as defined in major groups 52 through 59 of the 1957 edition of the SIC Manual, and as covered in the 1958 Census, includes establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise to personal, household, and farm users. In this report, liquor stores operated by State and local governments, classified in SIC major groups 92 and 93, also are included. Excluded from retail trade are places of business operated by institutions and open only to their own members or personnel, such as restaurants and bars operated by clubs, school cafeterias, eating places operated by industrial and commercial enterprises for their own employees, establishments operated by agencies of the Federal Government on military posts, hospitals, etc.

Establishments covered by the census were assigned a kind-of-business classification in accordance with the provisions of the 1957 edition of the SIC Manual. However, because in some instances a more detailed classification is required for Census purposes than is available in the SIC Manual, additional kinds of business have been identified within the SIC categories.

It should be noted that kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with commodity classifications. Most businesses sell a number of kinds of commodities. The kind-of-business code assigned generally reflects either the individual commodity or commodity group which is the primary source of the establishment's receipts or some mixture of different commodities which characterize the establishment's business. Thus, the classification of establishments by kind of business generally does not make it possible to determine either the number of establishments handling a particular commodity or the sales of that commodity. For example, the "food group" classification excludes stores selling some food if the sale of food is not the primary source of receipts; moreover, even though stores are classified as "food stores" some of their receipts may be derived from the sale of nonfood products.

As noted in the section on "Method of Enumeration," the 1958 Census findings are based on reports from two different sources. "Employer" establishments were canvassed by mail and were required to complete report forms especially designed for this Census. "Nonemployer" establishments, however, were included in the Census on the basis of information supplied on the 1958 Federal income tax report. Because of the nature of the information available on the tax form, the kind-of-business classifications based on that form represent primarily "self-designation."

The classifications based on the Census forms, on the other hand, reflect the information on the commodity "composition" of the establishment as revealed by the Census classification inquiries. The effect of the two different sources on uniformity of classification, as reflected in the measurement of dollar volume of sales, is minor. In total, the "nonemployer" establishments account for less than 10 percent of retail sales and, in most cases, it is likely that the "self-designated" classification would be consistent with that derived from more comprehensive information.

The data in this report for three major SIC groups, 53, 55, and 59, have been subdivided, making it necessary to arrive at SIC major group totals by addition. (See description below for these major groups.)

The material which follows includes descriptions of those kinds of business for which separate information is provided.

Lumber, Building Materials, Hardware, Farm Equipment Dealers (SIC Major Group 52)

Establishments primarily selling lumber, building materials, the basic lines of hardware, paint, wallpaper, glass, electrical supplies, roofing materials, and other supplies and equipment for home construction. Establishments primarily selling farm equipment are also included. Establishments in this group sell to contractors as well as to the general public.

Lumber yards (SIC 5211).—Establishments primarily selling lumber, millwork, and other building materials, such as brick and tile, cement, cinder blocks, sand and gravel, fencing materials, storm doors and windows, wallboard and roofing materials. Establishments are included in this category only if their receipts from sales of lumber and millwork are one-third or more of their total receipts.

Building materials dealers (SIC 5212).—Establishments primarily selling either a specialized or a general line of building materials. If lumber and millwork are sold, receipts from sales of these commodities are less than one-third of total receipts.

Heating, plumbing equipment dealers (SIC 522).—Establishments primarily selling plumbing supplies and heating and air conditioning equipment. Establishments primarily engaged in installation on a contract basis or in repairs are not included in the Census of Business.

Paint, glass, wallpaper stores (SIC 523).—Establishments primarily selling paint, glass, and wallpaper, or any combination of these lines. Establishments primarily engaged in installing glass (except auto glass) are not included in the Census of Business.

Electrical supply stores (SIC 524).—Establishments primarily selling electrical supplies, such as lighting fixtures, switches, cable, and fuse boxes for use in homes. Establishments primarily selling electrical appliances are included with "Furniture, Home Furnishings, Equipment Stores" (SIC major group 57).

Hardware stores (SIC 5251).—Establishments primarily selling a number of basic hardware lines, such as tools, builders' hardware, paint and glass, housewares and household appliances, cutlery, and roofing materials. These establishments may also sell farm implements.

Farm equipment dealers (SIC 5252).—Establishments primarily selling farm tractors, reapers, mowers, plows, wagons, and related farm equipment. These establishments may also sell a combination of basic lines of hardware, such as tools, builders' hardware, housewares, cutlery and related lines.

General Merchandise Group (SIC Major Group 53, Except for "Nonstore Retailers")

This group includes all establishments within SIC Major Group 53, "General Merchandise," except for "nonstore" establishments which for purposes of this publication are separately classified. The "nonstore" classification descriptions will be found immediately following those for "Other Retail Stores."

The data for establishments in this group in the 1958 Census of Business as compared with the 1954 Census of Business are affected by the treatment, in 1958, of leased departments as parts of the establishment within which they operate rather than as separate establishments. The data for department stores are most affected by this change.

Department stores (SIC 531).—Establishments normally employing 25 or more people and engaged in selling some items in each of the following lines of merchandise:

1. Furniture, home furnishings, appliances, radio and TV sets
2. A general line of apparel for the family
3. Household linen and dry goods

An establishment with total sales of less than $5,000,000, in which sales of any one of these groupings is greater than 80 percent of total sales, is not classified as a department store.

An establishment with total sales of $5,000,000 or more is classified as a department store even if sales of one of the groups described above is more than 80 percent of total sales, provided that the combined sales of the other two groups is $500,000 or more. Relatively few stores are included in this classification as a result of this special rule and most of those which are would otherwise have been classified in the apparel group (SIC Major Group 56).

Limited price variety stores (SIC 533).—Establishments primarily selling a variety of merchandise in the low and popular price ranges, such as stationery, gift items, women's accessories, toilet articles, light hardware, toys, housewares, confectionery. These establishments frequently are known as "5 and 10 cent" stores and "5 cents to a dollar" stores, although merchandise is usually sold outside these price ranges.

Classification of all stores in this category is primarily based on self-designation by the store operators. The self-designation was supplemented by the addition to the 1958 Census report form of a question on food sales, the answers to which resulted in removing from this category a significant number of smaller establishments included under this heading in the 1954 tabulations.

General merchandise stores (Part of SIC 5392).—Establishments primarily selling household linens and dry goods, and either apparel and accessories or furniture and home furnishings. Establishments which meet the criteria for department stores, except as to employment, are included in this classification. Included in this classification are establishments whose sales of "apparel" or of "furniture and home furnishings" exceed half of their total sales providing that sales of the smaller of the two lines in combination with "dry goods and household linens" accounts for 20 percent or more of total sales.

Dry goods stores (Part of SIC 5392).—Establishments primarily selling dry goods, notions, and piece goods.

Sewing, needlework stores (Part of SIC 5392).—Establishments primarily selling sewing and knitting supplies and yarn or any combination of these commodities.

General stores (SIC 5393).—Establishments primarily selling a general line of merchandise of which the most important line is food, and the more important subsidiary lines are notions, apparel, farm supplies, and gasoline. These establishments are usually located in rural communities. In these establishments sales of food account for at least one-third and not more than two-thirds of total sales. Establishments describing themselves as "general stores" whose sales of food exceeded two-thirds of their total sales are classified as grocery stores (SIC 5411).

Food Stores (SIC Major Group 54)

Establishments primarily selling food for home preparation and consumption. Establishments primarily selling prepared food and drinks for consumption on their own premises are classified as "Eating and Drinking Places" (SIC major group 58), and stores primarily engaged in selling packaged beers and liquors are classified separately as "liquor stores."

The data for stores in this group as compared with the 1954 data may be affected by changes in the census report forms between the two years. In 1954, the classification was based on self-designation. In 1958, classification was based on the respondent identification of the commodity group accounting for the major part of total sales.

The data for "meat markets" in the 1958 Census of Business as compared with the 1954 Census of Business is affected by the treatment of leased departments as parts of the establishment within which they operate rather than as separate establishments. The same is true of "fish (seafood) markets" and "fruit stores, vegetable markets." In each of these classifications the data tend to be reduced because of this treatment.

Grocery stores, including delicatessens (SIC 541).—Establishments primarily selling (1) a wide variety of canned or frozen foods, such as vegetables, fruits, and soups, (2) dry groceries, either packaged or in bulk, such as tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruits, spices, sugar, flour, and crackers, and (3) other processed food and nonedible grocery items. In addition these establishments often sell smoked and prepared meats, and fresh fish and poultry, fresh vegetables and fruits, and fresh or frozen meats. This classification includes stores which in the 1954 Census of Business were shown separately under the title "delicatessen stores."

Meat markets (SIC 5422).—Establishments primarily selling meat. These establishments frequently sell poultry, fish, dairy products, eggs, and some groceries.

Fish (seafood) markets (SIC 5423).—Establishments primarily selling fish, oysters and other shellfish, and other seafoods. These establishments frequently sell other food items commonly used in preparing seafood or consumed with seafoods.

Fruit stores, vegetable markets (SIC 543).—Establishments primarily selling fresh fruits and fresh vegetables. They are frequently found in public or municipal markets. These establishments frequently carry a limited line of grocery items. Stands operated by farmers selling only their own produce are not included in the Census of Business.

Candy, nut, confectionery stores (SIC 544).—Establishments primarily selling candy, nuts, sweetmeats, or other confections. Operation of a soda fountain or lunch counter is common.

Dairy products stores (SIC 545).—Establishments primarily selling dairy products such as fluid milk and cream, cheese, ice cream, and sherbets. A limited line of groceries is frequently carried. Establishments which bottle, pasteurize, homogenize, or otherwise process fluid milk are not included in the Census of Business, but are included in the Census of Manufactures (SIC 202).

Retail bakeries, manufacturing (SIC 5462).—Establishments primarily selling bakery products, such as bread, cakes, pies, or cookies, over the counter, some or all of which is baked on their own premises. Bakeries, most of whose products are distributed directly to consumers by means of route delivery, are not included in the Census of Business but are included in the Census of Manufactures (SIC 205).

Retail bakeries, nonmanufacturing (SIC 5463).—Establishments primarily selling bakery products, such as bread, cakes, pies, or cookies, over the counter. Establishments included in this category do not bake any of the products they sell.

Egg and poultry dealers (SIC 5491).—Establishments primarily selling eggs and poultry. A limited line of groceries is frequently carried.

Other (SIC 5499).—Establishments, not elsewhere classified, primarily selling specialized lines of food such as coffee and tea stores, spice shops, health food stores, etc.

NOTE: This group does not include establishments primarily engaged in selling trucks and motorized industrial equipment. Such establishments are included in the Wholesale Trade portion of the Census of Business.

Passenger car dealers, franchised (SIC 551).—Establishments primarily selling new automobiles, or new and used automobiles and trucks. These establishments frequently operate repair shops and used car lots and may carry stocks of replacement parts, tires, batteries, and automotive accessories. In some tabulations this category is subdivided to show data separately for establishments which sell (1) new domestically produced passenger cars only, (2) new imported passenger cars only, and (3) new domestic and imported passenger cars. Used car lots and repair shops operated by franchised dealers are not recognized as separate establishments. Data for such operations are consolidated in this category with other data for franchised passenger car dealers.

Passenger car dealers, nonfranchised (SIC 552).—Establishments primarily selling used cars and trucks and not holding a franchise for the sale of new passenger cars.

Tire, battery, accessory dealers (SIC 553).—Establishments primarily selling new automobile tires, batteries, automobile seat covers, and automobile parts and accessories. Establishments primarily selling used merchandise in these categories are classified as "secondhand stores" (SIC 5933-5939).

Establishments in this group are primarily engaged in selling clothing of all kinds and related articles for personal wear and adornment. Not included in this group are the establishments which meet the criteria for department stores or general merchandise stores (SIC 531 and part of 5392), even though most of their receipts are from the sale of apparel and apparel accessories.

Establishments primarily selling artists' supplies, or collectors' items (coins, stamps, autographs) and supplies are classified as "other," the last classification listed in this group.

Religious goods stores (Part of SIC 5999).—Establishments primarily selling religious goods, such as Bibles, prayer books, hymnals, church and Sunday school supplies, communion supplies, rosaries and religious statues, medals, jewelry, and pictures.

Pet shops (Part of SIC 5999).—Establishments primarily selling pets, e.g., dogs, cats, birds, rabbits, tropical fish, and equipment for housing and caring for pets, and other pet supplies.

Other (Part of SIC 5999).—Establishments primarily selling specialized lines of merchandise, such as collectors' items and supplies, artists' supplies, orthopedic and artificial limbs, drafting materials, hearing aids, rubber stamps, monuments and tombstones, and other lines not elsewhere classified.

Nonstore Retailers (Part of SIC Major Group 53)

Mail-order houses (SIC 532).—Establishments primarily engaged in distributing merchandise through the mail as a result of mail orders received. Each establishment of organizations which operate both mail-order houses and other retail establishments is classified on the basis of its own operations. Consequently, the mail-order houses of such organizations are included in this classification while their other establishments are included in whichever of the above kind-of-business classifications is appropriate to their operation. Mail-order houses are divided into subclassifications on the basis of the merchandise they sell in the same manner as the store-type classifications.

Merchandise vending machine operators (SIC 534).—Establishments primarily engaged in the sale of merchandise through coin-operated vending machines which generally are located on the premises of other businesses. Since a large number of merchandise vending machine operations are conducted in conjunction with the operations of manufacturing plants, and of wholesale and other establishments not classified in Retail Trade, data for "retail" merchandise vending machine operators should not be interpreted as providing a measure of total sales through merchandise vending machines. The data for "retail" merchandise vending machine operators also do not include sales made through vending machines owned by establishments classified in other kinds of retail trade. Merchandise vending machine operators are divided into subclassifications on the basis of the merchandise sold in the machines on location as of the end of the census year.

Direct selling (house to house) organizations (SIC 535).—Establishments which solicit orders and distribute their products by house-to-house canvass. When the canvassers are employed by the organization which they represent, the "establishment" is the location from which they operate. However, many of the important organizations whose products are distributed in this manner utilize self-employed canvassers as their representatives. Each such canvasser is counted as an "establishment" in this report. As a result, the "number of establishments" data is considerably larger than would be the case if the count were based on the primary organizations whose products are being distributed. Since only establishments having sales of $2,500 or more during the census year are included, the "number of establishments" in this category should not be interpreted as being a count of the total number of self-employed canvassers. Direct selling (house to house) organizations are divided into subclassifications on the basis of the merchandise they sell in the same manner as the store-type classification.

APPENDIX D

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Establishments.—Census of Business figures represent a summary of reports for individual "establishments" rather than "companies." A separate report was obtained for each location where business was conducted, including each location of multiunit organizations. Each report was tabulated in accordance with the physical location at which the business was conducted.

Where two or more activities were carried on at a single location under a single ownership, all activities generally were grouped together as a single establishment, and the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity, with all data for it included in that classification. However, in cases where distinct and separate economic activities, for which different industry classification codes were appropriate, were conducted under the same ownership at a single location, and where conditions prescribed by the SIC Manual for recognizing the existence of more than one establishment were met, separate establishment reports for each of the different activities were reported in the censuses.

In the case of leased departments, i.e., where separately owned businesses are operated as departments of a retail business under another ownership (e.g., a separately owned shoe department in a department store) only a single establishment, combining leased departments with the retail establishment in which they are located, is recognized for 1958 Census purposes.

The "number of establishments" shown in this report is the number in business at the end of the census year.

Sales.—Sales include the total of merchandise sold, and receipts from repairs and from other services to customers, whether or not payment was received in 1958. Sales are normally recorded net of deductions for refunds and allowances for merchandise returned by customers. Total sales exclude amounts other than those received from customers, such as income from investments, rental of real estate, etc. They include the amount of local and State sales taxes and Federal excise taxes which are collected by the store directly from customers and paid directly by the store to a local, State, or Federal taxing agency. Gasoline, liquor, tobacco, and other excise taxes which are paid by the manufacturer or wholesaler and passed along to the retailer also are included.

The sales figures, therefore, represent total sales and receipts of all establishments primarily engaged in retail trade. They do not include retail sales made by manufacturers, wholesalers, service establishments, and other businesses whose primary activity is other than retail trade. They do, however, include receipts other than from the sale of merchandise at retail (e.g., service receipts, sales to industrial users, sales to other retailers, etc.) by establishments primarily engaged in retail trade. Although the count of establishments as tabulated in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year, the sales figures include sales of all establishments in business at any time during the year.

Payroll, entire year.—Payroll includes salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, vacation allowances, and the value of payments in kind (such as free meals, lodgings, etc.) paid during the year to all employees. Gratuities received by employees from patrons are not included. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners of unincorporated businesses. Payroll is reported before deductions for Social Security, income tax, insurance dues, etc.

Payroll—workweek ended nearest November 15.—This item consists of payroll, as defined above, which was paid to persons on the payroll in the pay period ended nearest November 15, 1958. Establishments whose payroll period was other than a week were requested to adjust the figures to a weekly basis.

Paid employees—workweek ended nearest November 15.—Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll for the workweek ended nearest November 15.

"Full workweek" employees.—"Full workweek" employees includes employees, whether regular or seasonal, who, for the specified pay period, were paid for working at least the number of hours typically worked in a week by employees of the reporting establishment. All other employees paid during that workweek were reported as part-workweek employees.

Proprietors of unincorporated businesses.—Includes owners or partners of unincorporated businesses who devoted the major portion of their time to the operation of the business.

Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.—In addition to those for States, counties, and cities, Census of Business statistics are presented for standard metropolitan statistical areas. These are areas which have been defined and established cooperatively by a number of interested Federal agencies under the direction of the Bureau of the Budget for purposes of compilation and presentation of a wide variety of statistical data on a uniform area basis.

The general concept adopted in defining a standard metropolitan statistical area was that of an integrated economic area with a large volume of daily travel and communication between a central city of 50,000 inhabitants or more and the outlying parts of the area. This resulted in an area considerably more restricted, especially for the larger cities, than the "market" or "trading" area. Each area (except in New England) consists of one or more entire counties. In New England, metropolitan statistical areas have been defined on a town basis rather than a county basis. A complete statement of the principles adopted as a guide in applying this general concept to the definition of individual areas will be found in a document issued in 1961 by the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President, entitled "Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas."

The 189 standard metropolitan statistical areas in continental United States and Hawaii for which 1958 Census of Business data are included in this volume are those defined by the Bureau of the Budget as of June 30, 1958 (see Appendix E).

Leased departments.—For census purposes, a leased department is a separately owned business operated as a department of a retail establishment. However, the tabulations in this volume include only those leased departments which operated within a main store which had some payroll during the year 1958.

Administrative offices, warehouses, and other auxiliary units of retail establishments.—These are locations of a multiunit organization which service or are auxiliary to the retail stores within the organization. They do not ordinarily sell merchandise at retail. They are classified into the following groups.

Administrative offices.—These are locations such as central offices, executive offices, and district offices which are engaged in performing administrative functions for the retail stores within the same multiunit organization. Locations having other functions in addition to administrative functions are included in this group.

Warehouses.—These are locations which maintain a supply of merchandise and which are engaged in distributing that merchandise to retail stores of the same organization.

Other auxiliary units.—These are locations such as buying offices, garages, receiving or shipping offices, etc., which are engaged in performing auxiliary functions other than warehousing and administration for the retail stores in the same organization.

SALES-SIZE CLASSIFICATION

The 1958 Census of Business—Retail Trade analyses by sales size are designed to provide data for a maximum of 12 sales-size groups for establishments operated the entire year. For the purpose of these tabulations, an establishment is classified as an entire-year establishment if it operated 10 or more months during the year and was in operation at the end of the year. Seasonal establishments, which normally operate for only a part of the year, are treated as "entire year" or "not entire year" on the basis of the length of time that the establishment was owned rather than the length of time it was open for business during the census year.

For purposes of sales-size tabulations, the entire-year establishments have been classified into 12 sales-size groups depending on the value of sales and receipts reported for the year 1958. These sales-size groups are as follows:

$5,000,000 or more
 $2,000,000 to $4,999,000
 $1,000,000 to $1,999,000
 $500,000 to $999,000
 $300,000 to $499,000
 $100,000 to $299,000
 $50,000 to $99,000
 $30,000 to $49,000
 $20,000 to $29,000
 $10,000 to $19,000
 $5,000 to $9,000
 Less than $5,000

As the class interval descriptions indicate, establishments were classified by sales-size groups after the reported sales and receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars. The method of rounding to the nearest thousand dollars differs from methods previously used in the Census of Business. In 1958, each report was rounded by striking off the hundreds, tens, and unit digits from the reported dollars. One thousand dollars was then added to half of the reports. This method is less costly and less susceptible to error than methods previously used, and does not cause significant differences from older methods.

EMPLOYMENT SIZE

Analyses of retail trade by employment size provide data for a maximum of 12 employment-size groups for establishments operated the entire year. For the purpose of these tabulations, an establishment is classified as an entire-year establishment if it operated 10 or more months during the year and was in operation at the end of the year. Seasonal establishments, which normally operate for only a part of the year, are treated as "entire year" or "not entire year" on the basis of the length of time that the establishment was owned rather than the length of time it was open for business during the census year. Proprietors and unpaid family workers were not regarded as employees in determining the employment size of establishments.

The following employment-size groups are used in the report:

No paid employees
 1 paid employee
 2 paid employees
 3 paid employees
 4 or 5 paid employees
 6 or 7 paid employees
 8 or 9 paid employees
 10 to 14 paid employees
 15 to 19 paid employees
 20 to 49 paid employees
 50 to 99 paid employees
 100 or more paid employees

SINGLE UNITS AND MULTIUNITS

An establishment is classified as a single unit if it is operated by a firm which operates only one establishment in a particular kind-of-business group. An establishment is classified as a multiunit if it is one of two or more establishments in the same general kind of business operated by the same firm. The following listing indicates the kind-of-business groupings made for this purpose. Kinds of business not listed below are not, for this purpose, considered to be related to any other kind of business.

1. Lumber, building materials, hardware, farm equipment dealers and mail order lumber, building materials, hardware establishments.
2. General merchandise group stores and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of general merchandise.
3. Food stores and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of food items.
4. Automotive group dealers; gasoline service stations and mail order automotive merchandise establishments.
5. Apparel, accessories stores and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of apparel and/or accessories.
6. Furniture, home furnishings, appliance dealers and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of furniture, home furnishings and/or appliances.
7. Eating and drinking places.
8. Drug stores, proprietary stores and mail order proprietary medicine establishments.
9. Book stores, stationery stores and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of books and/or stationery.
10. Sporting goods, bicycle stores and mail order sporting goods establishments.
11. Hay, grain, feed stores, farm, garden supply stores and mail order feed and farm and garden supply establishments.

12. Jewelry stores and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of jewelry.
13. Fuel, ice dealers.
14. Cigar stores, stands and the nonstore establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of tobacco and tobacco products.
15. Camera, photographic supply stores and mail order camera, photographic supply establishments.
16. Gifts, novelties, souvenir stores and mail order establishments whose principal source of receipts is from the sale of gifts, novelties, and souvenirs.

Figures are shown separately by single units of "one-establishment" firms and of "multi establishment firms." A one-establishment firm single unit is a retail establishment operated by a firm which operates only that one retail establishment. A single unit of a multi-establishment firm is a retail establishment of a firm which operates two or more retail establishments, but no other retail establishment in the same general kind of business as the establishment concerned. For example, a firm operates three retail stores: A grocery store, a hardware store, and a cigar store. All three stores are single units of a multi-establishment firm for Retail Census purposes. Since each store is in a classification unrelated to the others, all three stores are single units of a multi-establishment firm.

LEGAL FORM OF ORGANIZATION

Each establishment included in the 1958 Census of Business was classified into one of the following legal forms of organization:

1. Individual proprietorship—These are establishments owned by one person.
2. Partnership—These are establishments owned by two or more persons each of whom has a financial interest in the business.
3. Corporation—These are establishments other than cooperatives, owned by an organization or company legally incorporated under State laws.
4. Cooperative—A cooperative establishment is defined as one owned by an association of customers of the establishment whether or not they are incorporated. In general, the distinguishing features of a cooperative are patronage dividends based on the volume of expenditures by the member, and a limitation of one vote per member regardless of the amount of stock owned. The establishments are open to the public as a rule, but generally are patronized primarily by members of the association operating the business.
5. Other legal forms—These are establishments whose legal form of organization is not one of those defined above. Included in this legal form are estates, receiverships, joint ventures, etc.

APPENDIX F

CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT AND MAJOR RETAIL CENTER DEFINITIONS AND DESCRIPTIONS

AREAS COVERED

In addition to a Summary Report, there are 97 reports in the Central Business District Series each of which covers a separate standard metropolitan statistical area and includes data for the central business district (or central business districts) in the specified standard metropolitan statistical area, as well as for each Census-delineated major retail center (MRC) located in the same standard metropolitan statistical area (SMSA). The number of MRC's for which data are shown in a single SMSA varies from none to 43. The entire series of reports provides data for 109 CBD's and 472 MRC's.

DELINEATION OF THE CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT (CBD)

Because many large cities had no officially defined area representing their "Central Business District," it was necessary for the Bureau of the Census, prior to the 1954 Census of Business, to arrange for the delineation of such districts before a program to tabulate Census data for them could be implemented. The delineation of central business districts was accomplished with the cooperation of the Census Tract Committees in the large cities included in the central business district (CBD) program. In their work on the CBD's the Census Tract Committees obtained the representation of a variety of local interests, such as business firms and associations, newspapers, planning agencies, welfare organizations, local governmental bodies, etc. Central business districts have been delineated only in those cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants (according to the 1950 Census of Population or a subsequent special census prior to 1959) in which there was a local Census Tract Committee recommendation for such an area in response to an inquiry from the Census Bureau.

The objective of the CBD program was stated, as follows, in a letter from the Director of the Census Bureau to the Census Tract Committees:

"The primary objective of this operation is to provide a basis for comparing changes in business activity in the Central Business District with those in the remainder of the metropolitan area or of the central city."

Because there are no generally accepted rules for determining what a CBD area should include or exclude, the Census Bureau did not provide rigid specifications for defining the CBD but (1) provided a general characterization of the CBD, describing it as "an area of very high land valuation, an area characterized by a high concentration of retail businesses, offices, theaters, hotels, and "service" businesses, and an area of high traffic flow"; and (2) required that the CBD ordinarily should be defined to follow existing tract lines, i.e., to consist of one or more whole Census tracts. The emphasis put on tracts was based on the anticipation that other Census statistics than those derived from the Census of Business might conveniently be tabulated for CBD's.

It was recognized that the tract basis for CBD's might lead to the inclusion of some land area not properly within a strictly defined CBD or to the exclusion of a small portion of what should be in the CBD. It was believed that this limitation generally would not prove to be serious as the difference in area probably would not significantly alter the magnitudes being measured. Provision, however, was made for splitting tracts where a serious problem was encountered. The use of tract lines for boundaries also was consistent with the desire to keep CBD boundaries constant, in order to maximize the value of comparisons over time. Although it was recognized that the CBD strictly defined would tend to change over time, it was felt that the inexactitude resulting from the use of fixed boundaries would not prove to be serious.

In some cities where there had been a previously established central business district or similar area which substantially corresponded to the Census Bureau's requirements for central business districts, such areas were accepted for use in the Bureau's CBD program.

Data for a total of 95 CBD's were provided in the 1954 Census of Business. Since that time, central business districts have been delineated for 14 additional cities, bringing the total to 109 CBD's located in 97 standard metropolitan statistical areas. A number of cities have made minor changes in the boundaries of their CBD's due mainly to revisions in tract boundaries. In only one city, Minneapolis, has a previously defined CBD been significantly changed.

DELINEATION OF THE MAJOR RETAIL CENTERS (MRC's)

Major retail centers have been delineated by the Bureau of the Census, and data from them have been tabulated, as part of the 1958 Census of Business program. The major retail centers (MRC's) were defined by the Census Bureau as those concentrations of retail stores (located inside the standard metropolitan statistical areas in which the CBD cities are located but outside of the CBD's themselves) which include a major general merchandise store—usually a department store. MRC's were not delineated if the publication of data for them would result in violation of Census rules prohibiting disclosure of information for individual firms.

MRC's include not only the planned suburban shopping center but also the older string street and neighborhood developments which meet the above prerequisites. Frequently the boundaries of a single MRC include stores located within a planned center and in addition adjacent stores outside of the planned portion. In general the boundaries of the MRC's have been established to include all adjacent blocks containing at least one store in the general merchandise, apparel, or furniture-appliance groups of stores, and where a planned center is involved include all of the center.

DATA FOR MAJOR RETAIL CENTERS

Due to the relatively small number of establishments in the Major Retail Centers, sales figures are shown only for—

1. Retail stores, total.
2. Convenience goods stores, i.e., Food stores (SIC 54), Eating and drinking places (SIC 58), and Drug, proprietary stores (SIC 591).
3. Shopping goods stores, i.e., General merchandise stores (SIC 53 pt.), Apparel, accessory stores (SIC 56), and Furniture, home furnishings, equipment stores (SIC 57).
4. All other retail stores (SIC 52, 55, 599).

In those cities within the standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) covered by this series of reports which were not of sufficient size to qualify for the delineation of a central business district, no MRC's were delineated unless at least two such centers could be defined. In these cities there may be some relatively large centers for which no data are presented.
